

Key Takeaways

- Two days of rigorous financial training at the National University of Singapore Business School.
- A certificate upon completion of the training.
- An insight into the development of Singapore's transport, housing and water sustainability strategies.

Rigorous Financial Training

This in-class training exposes young leaders to financial concepts underpinning the major decisions made by companies, investors and family businesses.

Guided Visits to Establishments

These visits serve to highlight the key milestones in the development of Singapore.

- Land Transport Authority
- Urban Redevelopment Authority
- PUB NEWater
- FusionWorld

Contact Us

 zhangcheng1@hotmail.com

 +65 9735 0637

About Singapore

Singapore – where East meets West. Dynamic. Global. Growing. Possibly the easiest place in the world to do business, Singapore is often referred to as a global business hub, featuring developed infrastructure, open business policies, a skilled workforce, respect for intellectual property, and the use of English as the main working language.

Who Should Attend

This program is especially crafted for young talents who are interested in furthering their education overseas.

Fees: RMB16,000 inclusive of hotel, breakfast, morning tea, lunch and bus. Does not include dinner, airfare and insurance. You may choose to book your own air-ticket home or let us do it for you.

Company Website

Visit our company website at

 <https://glassbridge.github.io>

Young Leaders Programme

NUS BUSINESS SCHOOL
MOCHTAR RIADY BUILDING

Why NUS?

National University of Singapore (NUS): Best in Asia

NUS is a leading global university ranked as Asia's Top University and 12th in the world by Quaquarelli Symonds (QS) University Rankings in 2016. NUS is Singapore's flagship higher education institution. NUS offers a global approach to education and research, with a focus on Asian perspectives and expertise. Among many illustrious alumni are five Singapore Presidents and Prime Ministers.

Founded in 1905 as a medical school with 23 students, NUS is today widely known for its innovative and rigorous education which has nurtured generations of leaders and luminaries across industries, professions and sectors in Singapore and beyond.

Why NUS Business School?

NUS Business School has consistently received top rankings in the Asia Pacific region by independent publications and agencies such as the Financial Times, Economist Intelligence Unit, and QS Top MBA. In the Financial Times Global Rankings, The NUS MBA is ranked 32nd, while the NUS-UCLA Executive MBA is ranked 6th, and the Asia Pacific Executive MBA is ranked 17th in 2016.

Global Programmes, Asian Perspectives

The approach of NUS Business School is international, teaching the best business practices from across the globe. The School is accredited by AACSB and EQUIS.

As a leading global university in Asia, NUS Business School offers a comprehensive portfolio of programmes to develop and equip leaders of today and tomorrow.

Distinguished Faculty

NUS Business School has a distinguished 149-strong faculty who originate from 25 countries. Many are internationally known for their expertise in academic research, experience in teaching senior level executives as well as vast experience in consulting for businesses and governments worldwide.

NUS Business School's customised executive programmes has been ranked 12th in the world by Financial Times in 2016. It has EQUIS accreditation for having met the highest standard of achievement in education and research for business schools worldwide.

International Ranking

6th <small>(UCLA-NUS EMBA Programme) Financial Times EMBA Rankings</small>	12th <small>(Customised Programmes) 2016 Financial Times Executive Education Ranking</small>	12th <small>in the world (business & management studies) QS World University Rankings®</small>
14th <small>In the world (for accounting and finance) QS World University Rankings®</small>	17th <small>(NUS APEX MBA Programme) Financial Times EMBA Rankings</small>	32nd <small>Financial Times Global MBA Rankings 2016</small>